Albertain and Mrs. McFarland have gone on a two month's visit to Vancouver.

Strathcona won Wetsakwin in cricket on Dominion day by a score of 128 to 92 in two innings.

The regular weekly meeting of the city council will be held Friday night. The accident was caused by the breaking of the neck axle going down the bridge. Fortunately no one was injured.

A rate of $1.20 return to Wetsakwin for the Orange celebration on July 4th has been secured through the efforts of County Master Dr. J. C. Wainwright.

A bus load of passengers yesterday went over the hill just at the point where the Strathcona level is reachable. The accident was caused by the breaking of the neck axle going down the bridge. Fortunately no one was injured.

NOTES AT THE FAIR

Sign Language at the Fair—Disqualification in Dog Show—Ben Patch, the Exhibition Horse, Recovering from Rheumatic Fever.

One of the characters that permeates the Fair grounds and adds to its picturesque quality is Andrew Bear, a smiling, simple-hearted Indian from Riviere qui Parle. Andrew has the use of but one hand, and so cannot do much work, but he has a wonderful smile and it is well worth opening up your purse to see Andrew's smile become a marvel of radiance.

His attire retains a touch of the old times, a high cap of beaver fur with feather pendant and red plume upstanding is one of the noticeable features. Andrew finding that the knowledge of his infirmity has brought him little practical expression of sympathy from the ladies, drifting pleasure-seeking crowds hit upon a new device yesterday.

Sign Language at Fair. He planned a pow-wow to be given at night near the race track, and he told it to all who smiled and sat in the forest. Andrew can speak no English, but his ingenuity though he lives to a hundred will always be a child, and he took infinite pleasure in conveying his invitations. First he swayed slightly in the rhythmic Indian dance, humming the "He-he-he-haw" law of the accompaniment. Then he pointed to the race-track, and pointed to the audience with "come-mund."

The time was next to be indicated, and Andrew, despite his lack of English was equal to this. He pointed a keen brown hand to the stand high in the heavens then his arm fell slowly, sweeping toward the western horizon where he held it fast. "He-he-he-haw," he hummed.

The dance was to be after sundown! So much was plain. But the returns to himself, what of them? To express this his tongue broke its bondage. "He-he-haw" — "twenty-five sense one!"

Andrew had seen the silver drooping from the coffers of the Moorish dancer's tent, and he concluded that dancing was the most remunerative work at the exhibition.

The Dog Show. Andrew was standing near the tent for the dogs, while he talked—a large tent at the right of the main avenue or trail. There were not many entries made, and the owners of the dogs and were there found many occasions for complaint in regard to the management of this exhibit. The noted Will

The next increase match between Edmonton and Strathcona will be played in Strathcona next Wednesday evening, July 10th. The locals have now two wins to their credit and a long lead in the race for the northern championship.

The marriage took place at the Methodist Parsonage on Tuesday of Mr. Percy Manning, of Strathcona, and Miss Annabelle Miller, of Dundas, Ontario. Rev. J. F. Johnston performed the ceremony.

The regular monthly meeting of Royal Bank Precipitous 600 taken place tonight in the Orange Hall. A full attendance is reported to have been present. Mr. Rogers' report of the meeting at Vancouver.

Rev. C. W. Corey, Mr. Corey and family left yesterday afternoon for the east, where they will in future reside. Mr. Corey's work as representative of the Western Baptist Mission work in Eastern Canada necessitates that they take up their residence in the Maritime Provinces. They will make their home for the present at Wellville, N.S.

Toronto Telegram Advises Them Not To Pay City Lot Prices For Prairie Land

Toronto, July 3.—The Telegram says editorially: A lightning calculator estimated that Saskatoon would have a population of 200,000 if it had three people settled on each of the city lots that have been sold and been started. Nor is Saskatoon the only or indeed the worst over-producer of city lots. Regina is just as bad. The same is true of other western centres. The country is controlled by a few responsible for the use which is being made of their names by exploiters who are looking for the money of the "western frontier."

Rockefeller Suppressed. Pittsfield, Mass., July 3.—John D. Rockefeller accepted service in person of the subpoena issued by Judge John F. The subpoena directed Mr. Rockefeller to appear before the Federal court at Chicago, July 4th.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Market Affected by Currency Movements—First Influence of Cotton Crop Movement Felt—Good Rail Road Earnings.

New York, July 3.—The fluctuations of speculative sentiment of prices today were directed by the developments bearing on the money prospects, especially the export gold movement. Stocks were under pressure at the outset on account of the expected engagement of $10,000,000 in gold for export to Holland. The recovery in stock began to set in when the changes of gold going out to Paris by tomorrow began to decline. The check to the Paris gold movement was the more welcome as the rates for money on call at the stock exchange continued to hold up with only gradual relation from the strain of the July settlements. An incident of the transfer through the sub-treasury of $100,000 to New Orleans, marking the beginning of the southern demand for the moving of the cotton crop. With the winter wheat harvest approaching, it will be necessary to account for an early demand from that quarter, also for currency.

With the passing of the prospect of immediate gold exports, however, the organized support in the market was able to push prices upward. The unexpected passing of the Paris stock market settlement was a hopeful factor. So was the fact that the road net earnings for May, reports of Harriman Pacific being added during the day. The copper stock showed some special strength, which gave rise to the suggestion that progress was making towards an agreement between buyers and sellers of that metal. The grain carrying railroads were also conspicuous. The approach of the holiday detracted from the interest and activity of the market. There was considerable discussion of the closing declines, rapid reactions on profit-taking at some points, while the bidding up process was retarded in others. Bonds were irregular. Metal sales, per usual, $100,000. United States 2½ advanced 1-4, and the 67, half, while the 4½ registered declined a quarter, and the coupon 3-8 per cent on call.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

NOT SHAKING. JUST A GENTLE ROCKING OF THE LEVER.

Shaking is a hard, back-breaking exercise, peculiar to common furnaces, while you can stand erect at the Sunshine—and moving the lever to and fro, about half the length of your arm, a few times, is mere play. A child can easily do it.

Grates of the Sunshine are in two pieces—right and left. By gently rocking the lever, a few times, the ashes are released from the right. Repeat the operation on the left and the ashes from that side drop into the ashpan. You couldn't wish for anything easier than the Sunshine Method.

When this lever is not in use it can be disconnected from the grates and the opening capped. But when connected it fits up the opening to snugly that no draft from eating ashes can escape.

Every detail is thought of on the "Sunshine"—that's what makes it the best.

If your local dealer does not handle the "Sunshine," write direct to us for FREE BOOKLET.

You could make good money as a "CAPITAL" agent

Some CAPITAL agents are busy farmers. Some are creamery helpers. One of the best ones is a minister. They make good money, and they don't have to work too hard to make it. They make clean money, because the CAPITAL agents to be the cream separator. It isn't necessary to lie about. The plain truth said it.

This spring we are expanding our field force—adding a few good men to our agency staff. Possibly we can fit you in—if you are the right kind of a man. You needn't be a dairymonger; and you needn't put up a cent of money. You can do your other work and sell the CAPITAL besides, if that's the way you'd rather have it. It will add much to your year's earnings, even that way.

Or you can make a business of the CAPITAL—a good business—substantial, permanent, profitable, and on the square all through.

We want ten good men Suppose YOU write

There are ten districts or so, right now, where a good man can start in and sell CAPITAL Separators to people who are ready to buy them just as soon as the machine is demonstrated to them. Each of those districts is for the right man, and he can have the field to himself. But he must be the RIGHT man—truthful, honest, clean cut, with good common sense.

For that man there's just as much money, in reason, as he wants to earn under a liberal, square-deal arrangement. We will protect him in his field, supply him with the names of people ready to

The right man can learn all this quick; and he can learn, too, how we make the CAPITAL buy itself in a very few months' time. The selling terms are the easiest kind of terms. The guarantee of every CAPITAL machine absolutely protects the customer and gives the agent a feeling of security, straight chance, this for the right kind of man. The CAPITAL does that for every man who sells it, because it makes money for every man who buys it.

Think it all over—remember you are not called to invest a cent. We will show you how and where to sell the CAPITAL—protect you in your district—and hand you over a paying business that will profit you for as much or as little time as you feel you can give it.

Think it over, and—no matter where you live—to invest a cent. We will show you how and where to sell the CAPITAL—protect you in your district—and hand you over a paying business that will profit you for as much or as little time as you feel you can give it.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE DEBATE WAS LIVELY

Attitude Of British Statesmen Toward Premier's Preference
Scheme Was Negative And Unsympathetic—Deakin, Of Australia, Plain-Spoken In New Hebrides Discussion

The report of the proceedings at the imperial conference has been issued in the form of a blue-book of 222 pages under the title "The Proceedings at the Imperial Conference on the New Hebrides." It contains full reports of most of the speeches. The general effect of the meeting is to show that the attitude of British ministers towards the Premier's scheme of preference was, as reported, a negative and unsympathetic one.

The episode of Sir Robert Bland's appeal on behalf of Newfoundland, which the conference closed, is not fully reported. Sir Robert Bland's speech is given, and in it he asks the phrase "Humbling circumstances," of the matter in which the most vivid of 1906 was enforced upon the colony. The motion was concluded between the British government and the United States without consulting Newfoundland. The report of the conference is followed by a note to this effect: "After a short adjournment the conference, after a discussion in private, agreed that Sir Robert Bland's statement should be recorded. Lord Kinnear's answer to the statement is not printed."

Some Plain Speaking.

There was some plain speaking the blue-book shows in the discussion on the New Hebrides when he complained that the navy to help the settlers was not mentioned by Mr. Churchill in a reply in parliament to a question directed against the Commonwealth tariff.

Mr. Churchill said that the authority for his statement was the high commissioner in the New Hebrides. Mr. Deakin said that his government immediately challenged the official misrepresentation of a gentleman recently appointed. Mr. Churchill gave the effect of the report in question, and said that if he had known what Australia had said, he would have stated it.

Mr. Deakin: Of course you would but the statement which was made was wrong, and that which you would have stated it was wrong again.

Mr. Deakin later spoke of the long instructions of those behind the political responsible heads who committed these overrights, "and of such leaders," telling against Australia.

Mr. Winston Churchill: I am very sorry if the answer I gave in any way appeared detrimental to the interests of the dominion affected and was at the particular time contrary to the fact.

Mr. Deakin: It has been detrimental, these answers are not understood, and our people can understand how it happens. It has a very bad effect here, because it is one of the strains of the same sort of misrepresentation.

It is the official press of the conference issued on the night of the debate, the subject was not even mentioned.

It should be noted that Sir Francis Hopwood, the permanent secretary, was asked to undertake the process.

Preference Debate.

It is impossible to print the full report of the preference debate, which was not merely a series of speeches as the press suggested, but a constant interchange of argument and answer between the home and the colonial ministers. The following are extracts.

Mr. Asquith: I am not sufficiently conversant with your (Australian) parties to say whether you will be able to pass any tariff which does not contain this condition about ships being manned with white crews. It does not affect it very much.

Mr. Asquith: It affects us enormously. It is a thing which is absolutely inadmissible, and I say that in the plainest terms. . . There is nothing that we can give you that we do not give you.

Sir William Lyne: I am very sorry to hear it.

Mr. Asquith: . . . What you are asking when you come here and talk about preference, and suggest that we should give you more than at present—we cannot, we give you everything—but that we should take away from others.

Sir William Lyne: If I had a boy I should look after him before I looked after a foreign boy.

Mr. Asquith: The abandonment of free trade; that is the basis.

Mr. Asquith: Is not that coming back, rather, to the fetish of the trade?

Mr. Asquith: You can call it a fetish if you like; you can call it a thing fetish, but with us it is a conviction.

shall have a rule allowing. We may think, on the other hand, that free trade within the empire will be recognized as the best way of the various communities of the empire ought to do in constructing.

You think, no doubt, that our economic system belongs to the age of the dog, was another of Mr. Asquith's remarks.

SCIENTIST HEARS
MANY STRANGE THINGS.

Sir William Prace says he noted the solar storm in the telephone.

Pitt, Pa., July 3.—Dr. John A. Brashear, the astronomer said this evening in speaking of the present disturbance of the sun, Sir William Prace, the great English electrician, recently had that he believed he had heard more than one solar storm in the telephone. He knew there was some unusual magnetic disturbance causing the trouble when he was testing some telephones in his laboratory.

And why not? We all know what difficulty we have in sending or receiving messages 8,000 there is much induction in the same, and in the case of magnetic storms, induced by solar disturbances, they certainly would affect the telephone service. During the disturbance following the last great spot I received letters from all over the country from electricians and cable operators giving accounts of difficulty in transmitting messages. One cable operator wrote me that his office was greatly disturbed on both sides of the Atlantic.

"With all this evidence may it not be quite within the range of possibility—say, probably—that Sir William Prace could hear the solar storm in the receiver of his telephone, isolated from other sounds, the message was sent 30,000, 600 miles by wire?"

GEORGIAN BAY CANAL.

Rebt. W. Perks, Claims Waterway Could Be Finished in Four Years.

New York, July 3.—Robert William Perks, J.P., who returns to England on the Celtic today after a business visit to Canada, said in an interview that the frequent labor strikes in the United States were "an economic barbarism." Mr. Perks is at the head of the Georgian Bay & Montreal Canal company. He is an engineer and has been associated with the large engineering undertakings in England and South America. He said that at one time his company had employed on the different undertakings 35,000 men and that there was never a strike. "President Roosevelt," said Mr. Perks, "deserves credit for his great courage in opposing the tyranny of the trade union, but there is also tyranny in the unions, and in deings with the organizations he has adopted a middle course. One thing that surprised me here was the sanguine strikes. I think they are an economic barbarism. All questions arising between employer and employee can be settled without appeal to arbitration. I have always made it a practice to meet the men employed by me and direct the problems with them and tell them "we could afford to pay. We never had a strike."

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION OPENS

Good Attendance Of Delegates—Excellent Address By Dr. Robertson

The Sunday School and Young People's Society convention being held in the city under the auspices of the Edmonton Presbytery opened this morning at the First Presbyterian church. There was a good attendance of delegates from outside points, as well as local churches interested in the subjects discussed.

The meeting opened with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. A. D. McDonald, and after some preliminary business of the convention an interesting and instructive address was delivered by Rev. J. C. Robertson, of Toronto, general secretary of the Sabbath school.

Rev. Dr. Robertson presented forcibly in his address the need of close relations between the home and the school to attain the best results with the children. Teachers should endeavor to get into touch with the parents and to ensure the regular attendance of all the children, as well as aid in securing the best spiritual results in the home.

Dr. F. W. Kelley, of Montreal, led the interesting discussion that followed, asking that Sunday school teachers should be in full sympathy with the daily lives of their pupils and acquaint themselves with the influence of their parents and the social conditions of their homes.

Dr. Kelley was followed by Mr. J. C. Robertson, of Dundas, Scotland, who has been a school teacher and superintendent for over 30 years. He dealt upon the need of the Sunday school teacher being thoroughly familiar with the whole Bible and not merely the lessons of each day. Some light had been noted as the "Bible-teaching nation" in the days of the generation passing. Whether or not the term applied as well now was a matter of opinion, he stated.

In regard to teachers coming in touch with the home, the speaker dwelt upon the need of interesting the father of a child as well as the mother. The fathers of families, especially in this country, were too inclined to leave the rearing of their wives and children. They should not neglect their moral responsibility in this way.
